Statement of Compliance

The Responsible Individual must prepare the statement of compliance.

CIW have published guidance on completing the quality of care review which provides advice on what could be contained within the statement of compliance.

Set out your statement of compliance in respect to the four well-being areas below.

The extent to which people feel their voices are heard, they have choice about their care and support, and opportunities are made available to them.	The home has been operational since November 22 and during this reporting period there have been two children in placement .
	The children in placement have engaged in monthly house mee tings whereby they have had an opportunity to express their vie ws to the care and support they receive. Requests made by the children in these forums have been actioned. For example - a a ir hockey table and boxing equipment has been purchased for t he home.
	The children have been formally consulted on a monthly basis t o the care they receive. One child requested to attend a local g ym, this was then arranged and supported.
	The children have been consulted with prior to any upcoming st atutory reviews being held. This process has helped the childre n to raise any questions within such reviews, ensuring their voic e is heard and they have input into the care provided. Staff hav e advocated for the children during these meetings, progressio n has specifically been made for one child with contact arrange ments and unsupervised time in the community.
	Monthly quality assurance inspection visits have taken place du ring this reporting period. As part of this process the children h ave been consulted whereby feedback and any actions within t hese reports have been addressed by the manager and staff te am.
	Responsible Individual visits have taken place during this report ing period. As part of this process the RI has consulted the chil dren, taking into account their views and wishes. Any actions h ave then been provided to the manager and staff team, and the y have been addressed.
	Children in placement have been offered the opportunity to acc ess our commissioned advocacy service - NWAA, North Wales Advice and Advocacy.
	During this reporting period, the children have reported they ar e generally happy in placement, they feel valued and their voic es are heard.

The extent to which people are happy and supported to maintain their ongoing health, development and overall wellbeing. For children, this will also include intellectual, social and behavioural development.	It is evident the service provided to the children is meeting their holistic needs and they feel happy in placement. This is reinforc ed via positive monthly quality assurance inspection reports, int ernal consultation and via RI visits to the home.
	Both children in placement have educational provisions in place . These are off-site and local to the home, therefore this has be en a positive factor to their placements. One child has transitio ned into a local high school, and another child is being support ed to sit their exams.
	The locality of the home enables children to have contact with t heir family members. One child has progressed to having overn ight contact with their family member and this has gone well.
	A reduction in risks has enabled children to progress to having more 'free time' within the community.
	The children in placement have been provided with a wide rang e of activities and clubs of interest have been identified to supp ort their social development. One child has been supported to attend local boxing classes and to enrol at a local gym.
	The children have been formally consulted on a monthly basis t o the care they receive. Feedback has generally been positive and a good indication they feel happy and supported in placem ent.
The extent to which people feel safe and protected from abuse and neglect.	During this reporting period, children have been placed in line with the homes statement of purpose. A robust and comprehen sive impact/matching risk assessment has been completed to d etermine the suitability of placements. As part of this process, t he child's individualised needs are taken into account where it was determined these can be met. This process includes taking into account any known risks and to determine children can be kept safe and protected from harm.
	Monthly quality assurance inspection visits have taken place du ring this reporting period. As part of this process the safety of t he children is paramount, the monthly reports are positive in thi s respect and confirm children are well cared for and kept safe from harm.
	A location risk assessment has been undertaken within the hom e. This assessment determines the home is in a suitable locatio n within a low risk area and takes into account the suitability of children based on their known risks.
	Children in placement have expressed via consultation process es that they feel safe and they understand how to raise concer ns and make a complaint.

The extent to which people live in accommodation that best supports their wellbeing and achievement of their personal outcomes.	During this reporting period, children placed have been done s o in line with the homes statement of purpose. A robust and co mprehensive impact/matching risk assessment has been compl eted to determine the suitability of placement.
	As part of this process, the child's individualised needs are take n into account and whether these can be met. It is evident the s ervice provided best supports their wellbeing and achievement to meeting their personal outcomes. For example:
	The locality of the home enables children to have contact with t heir family members. The locality of the home enables children to maintain the schoo I provisions. Children in placement are suitably matched to a multi-bed envir onment.
	Both children in placement have educational provisions in place . These are off-site and local to the home, therefore this has be en a positive factor to their placements. One child has transitio ned into a local high school, and another child is being support ed to sit their exams.
	The locality of the home enables children to have contact with t heir family members. One child has progressed to having overn ight contact with their family member and this has gone well.
	A reduction in risks has enabled children to progress to having more 'free time' within the community.
	The children in placement have been provided with a wide rang e of activities and clubs of interest have been identified to supp ort their social development. One child has been supported to attend local boxing classes and to enrol at a local gym.
	The children have been formally consulted on a monthly basis t o the care they receive. Feedback has generally been positive and a good indication they feel happy and supported in placem ent.
	Providers assessments have been completed for the children in placement, these assessments determine the children are receiving support catered for their individual needs.
	Each child has an individualised personal plan, these plans evi dence positive progression to their personal outcomes.
